Grand Celebration at Baltimore Marks Epoch in Church History.

Magnificent Pageant Presented by the Assembled Hierarchy.

Principal Events During the Solemn Festival at Old Cathedral.

BRAINS OF THE AMERICAN CHURCH

The celebration of the centenary of the Baltimore Cathedral last Sunday brought together the greatest assemblage of men that ever gathered under one roof in the United States. Great national conventions where every State is represented by its ablest politicians and most eloquent orators pale into insignificance beside this assemblage of prelates and priests. It was a great day for the church, a great day for Baltimore, a great day for America, and, as Archbishop Glennon expressed it, "This magnificent celebration marks an epoch in the church life of America."

Briefly summed up the chief events of the day's celebration were: The procession of the Cardinal, Archbishops, Bishops, Mitred Abbots and other church dignitaries from Calvert Hall to the Cathedral, the celebration of Pontifical mass by Archbishop Farley, of New York; the morning sermon by Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia; solemn vespers and a sermon in the afternoon by Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis; the reading of a congratulatory letter from his Holiness Pope Pius X., and a dinner given the visiting members of the hierarchy and those in their respective trains by his Eminence Cardinal Gibbons.

The procession from Calvert Hall to the Cathedral started at 10:30 o'clock. A brilliant scene was presented as the long line of eminent men in the striking garb of their positions and orders, with their crosses and chains of gold gleaming and their jewels of authority scintillating in the sunlight, slowly wound its way out of the hall, across Cathedral street and into the main entrance of the historic old church.

The high altar was ablaze with lighted candles, which shed a softened, golden light that seemed to spread throughout the church. The fragrance of spring flowers filled the air and the large sanctuary was filled with palms and potted plants. The contrast between the scarlet of the full Pontifical robes of Cardinal Gibbons, the violet purple of the Apostolic Delegate, the gold cloth vestments of the prelates who officiated at the mass, the deep purple of the Archbishops and Bishops and the white surplices of the seminarians and acolytes formed a combination of light and color of wonderful richness.

The music of the mass was rendered by the Cathedral choir under the direction of the Rev. Father Charles Marceteanu, professor of plain chant at St. Charles' College. At the offertory Handel's celebrated "Hallelujah Chorus" was rendered with splendid effect. The sermon, preached by Archbishop Ryan, was delivered after the first gospel. Extracts from it will be found in another column.

After Archbishop Farley pronounced the final benediction Cardinal Gibbons arose from his throne and briefly addressed the assembled prelates. He spoke of the glories of the old Cathedral and the greatness of the Catholic religion. The Cardinal told of conditions in the United States 100 years ago, when Bishop Carroll laid the cornerstone, and drew a striking contrast between that day and the present. Then there was but one Bishop and less than 70,000 Catholics. Now there are 105 Bishops and Archbishops and more than 12,000,000 Catholics. In conclusion he thanked the members of the hierarchy for having come to honor the occasion.

The morning services closed with the reading of a letter of congratulation from the Pope. The letter concluded with his apostolic benediction for the Cardinal, hierarchy, clergy and the whole American people. The letter was presented by Monsignor Falconio, the Apostolic Delegate, and was read by the Very Rev. Father Fletcher, rector of the Cathedral.

The vesper service in the evening was preceded by a procession much the same as in the morning. Archbishop Messmer officiated and Archbishop Glennon preached the sermon. After benediction of the most blessed sacrament Cardinal Gibbons intoned the "Te Deum Laudamus." A quartette of seminarians intoned the alternate verses and the choir responded. Thus the religious celebration was brought to a close.

Taking part in the celebration, besides the Cardinal and Apostolic Delegate, were twelve Archbishops, eighty-six Bishops, seventeen Mitred Abbots, more than 150 Monsignors and 600 priests of less dignity.

HAPPILY CHRISTENED.

Maurice Quill entertained a number of his friends at his home, Twenty-sixth and Alford avenue, in honor of the christening of his baby daughter. All partook of an excellent supper and then enjoyed the evening with mirth and music. Frank G. Adams spoke eloquently on the duties of a bachelor, and Charley Raidy said he could only agree with the remarks of his friend Adams. Louis Kieffer dwelt on the "Beauties of a Home," after which solos and duets were rendered by Messrs. James Mullarkey, William Quill and Adolph Andriot. The proud father declined to make an address, but said he would have something to say when he met Messrs. Raidy, Adams and Murphy at the next meeting of Mackin's Bachelor Club.

BOSQUET-FANGMAN

Wedding Bells Will Ring For June Bride and Bridegroom.

A local June wedding which will attract more than ordinary interest will occur at St. Mary's church, Eighth and Grayson streets, when Miss Bertha Bosquet becomes the bride of Clement Fangman. The exact date of the wedding will be announced later. The Rev. Father Westerman, who has known the bride since childhood, will tie the knot and will celebrate the nuptial mass that follows. Miss Henrietta Gathof will be the maid of honor and Albert Gnau will appear in the role of best man. The ushers will be Messrs. Henry Gottbrath, John Hubbuch and John Jutt.

The bride, who is a daughter of Henry Bosquet, and well known for her beauty and accomplishments, will be gowned in white with the customary bridal wreath and veil. Mr. Fangman, who is receiving congratulations on winning such a charming bride, holds a responsible position with the Big Store.

After the ceremonies at church the bridal party will be tendered a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bosquet, 2028 Floyd street. Mr. and Mrs. Fangman will take a honeymoon trip of two weeks through the principal cities of the East. While these two people have been recognized as sweethearts for some time, the news of their rapidly approaching nuptials will be a pleasant surprise to their many friends.

MAY DEVOTIONS.

This Month Is Dedicated to Mary, the Mother of God.

May is in a special manner devoted to Mary, the mother of God. It is the most beautiful season of the year and all over the world her faithful children delight to do her honor. In all the Catholic churches of Louisville some devotions are practiced daily in her honor during this present month. In many churches the faithful attend mass in the morning and then the devotions in the evening, which usually consist of the recitation of the rosary, a brief instruction and benediction of the most blessed sacrament.

The church teaches that Mary appears as the model and type of Christian woman. A daughter, a wife, a mother and a widow, she passes through all the states of womanhood. During May her altars are adorned with flowers and her statues crowned with garlands. On the first of May processions of little girls clad in white are held, while the children sing the litany of the Blessed Virgin and hymns to the mother of God.

Tomorrow is the first Sunday of the month and the procession at St. Louis Bertrand's church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon will be unusually elaborate. The usual rosary sermon will be preached and 200 children will take part in the celebration.

DECISIVE VICTORY.

Mackin's Bowlers Take Two Out of Three Games From Trinity.

Mackin Council's team defeated Trinity's bowlers at Flynn's West End alleys on Wednesday night. The victorious team was made up of Capt. Raidy and Messrs. Deuser, Bohn, Burke, Cassin, Koertner, Harlow and Flynn. Trinity's men were Capt. Martin and Messrs. Lego, Coleman, Zirnheld, Wempe and Barry. Mackin won two of the three games.

Capt. Raidy was not in time for the first game and Barney Flynn acted as captain and rolled in his stead. Frank G. Adams was chosen umpire. He was also chief rooster for Mackin's members. The victory was decisive and showed that Mackin's bowlers have improved wonderfully. Now that each team has won one series the rival teams will roll the deciding contest on Flynn's alleys at an early date.

NEARING ORDINATION.

The Rev. Desire D. Miller, who is now finishing his studies at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, will be ordained this week during the latter part of this month. He will celebrate his first mass at St. William's church, this city, on Sunday, June 3. The young clergyman is a native of Lebanon and made his early studies at St. Mary's College. After spending a brief vacation in this city Father Miller will assume duties as a missionary priest in one of the Western dioceses.

CONVENTION.

Catholic Knights and Ladies Will Meet in the City of Detroit.

Louisville Was Cradle of Order That Has Accomplished Much.

Late Gran W. Smith Was the Founder of Excellent Society.

ORDER HAS GROWN AND PROSPERED

The biennial national convention of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America will meet at Detroit on Tuesday, May 15, and twenty delegates, representing as many branches from the Falls Cities, will leave Louisville via L. & N. the latter part of next week. These delegates have chartered a Pullman car for the trip to Detroit and return. The local delegates are D. J. Heffernan, Thomas Keenan, Mrs. Mary Weisenberger, Miss Mollie Burke, John Carr, John Wallace, Miss Mayme Hannon, George Schaefer, John B. Murphy, Henry Gude, Thomas Claire, Miss Katie Mooney, Thomas Camfield, Father John O'Connor, A. J. Huckenbeck, Mrs. Andrew Kast, William Dries, Michael Lyons, William Woodsmall, John Tobin and Mrs. Cora Richards. Several of these delegates are members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians or Ladies' Auxiliary as well as of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America.

Louisville was the cradle of this grand insurance order. It was organized in this city sixteen years ago, a few months after the disastrous cyclone of March 27, 1890. It was founded by the late Gran W. Smith, who saw the necessity for a Catholic insurance organization that would include women as well as men. The first branch was established in St. Charles Borromeo parish. In November of the same year Branch 2 was organized in St. Patrick's parish with a charter membership of eight. This branch now has 400 and is one of the largest in the order. From such a humble beginning the society has grown and prospered, until it now has 223 branches in fourteen States. Its aggregate membership is 10,000.

The late Gran W. Smith lived to see the order he founded prosper beyond his expectations, but since his death the membership has greatly increased and there are thousands of members who bless the name of the great and good man.

The first national convention was held in Louisville and Thomas Henley, of this city, was the first Supreme President. The second convention was held at Cairo and the third at Memphis. William Higgins, of Memphis, succeeded Mr. Henley as Supreme President, and he in turn was succeeded by John McGoff, of Michigan, who died during his term of office. At that time Miss Mary Sheridan, of this city, who was Supreme Vice President, filled out Mr. McGoff's unexpired term. Then in order came Charles O'Donnell, of Chicago; James H. Crumley, of Detroit, and last, but by no means least, the present incumbent, Dennis E. Kelley, of Memphis. During his term the order has increased 2,000 members. There are twenty branches in Louisville and one each in New Albany and Jeffersonville. The other Supreme officers are:

Spiritual Director—Rev. Father C. P. Raffo, Louisville.
Supreme Vice President—John J. Doran, Paducah.
Supreme Secretary—Henry F. Hayes, Chicago.

Supreme Treasurer—Miss Mary E. Sheridan, Louisville.
Supreme Medical Director—Dr. D. D. O'Gorman, St. Louis.

Supreme Trustees—P. J. Reagan, St. Louis; Mrs. Julia O'Keefe, St. Louis, and Mrs. Mary Lynch, Chicago.

The Law Committee is made up of Thomas Keenan, Sr., of Louisville; Attorney Phelan, of Memphis, and Charles O'Donnell, of Chicago. It is probable that the amendments to the constitution offered at the coming convention will be of minor importance, since the order has grown so rapidly and everything has worked so satisfactorily that any radical change would not be advisable. During the sixteen years of their existence the Catholic Knights and Ladies have never missed paying a death claim.

After conversing with a number of the delegates it is the opinion of the Kentucky Irish American that there will be no changes in the Supreme officers, as all appear to have given thorough satisfaction.

POSTPONED.

The euchre which was to have been given under the auspices of Mackin Council, Y. M. I., on Thursday evening of this week, has been postponed until next Thursday night.

INSPECTION.

The annual inspection and drill of the First District Commandery of the Knights of St. John will take place at Phoenix Hill Hall on Monday evening. The company drills will begin at 8 o'clock and continue about an hour. On behalf of the Knights Col. Theodore Poppe and the officers invite all their friends to attend. Dancing will follow the drills and refreshments of all kinds will be served. Admission will be only ten cents, children under twelve years of age being admitted free.

TWO BRIGHT BOYS.

These are Joseph and Harry Diersen, the bright young sons of Henry Diersen, the well known brewer. They took prominent parts in the annual musicale given by the pupils of Our Lady of Mercy, on East Broadway, on Wednesday afternoon. Harry Diersen appeared in costume as a character in a little drama entitled "The School Festival." Joseph Diersen acquitted himself admirably in a violin duet. Both are progressing nicely at school and their father is proud of his boys.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

A council may soon be established on the Isthmus of Panama.

Cincinnati Council sent $500 to Archbishop Riordan for the earthquake sufferers.

A new council of the order will be instituted at Washington, Mo., on Sunday, May 13.

Members of the Los Angeles Council contributed $10,000 to aid unfortunate San Francisco.

The members of Hennepin Council, Minn., contributed $638.50 to the San Francisco sufferers.

Louisville will next Sunday confer the degrees on eighty candidates, the largest class ever initiated here.

Several hundred St. Louis Knights went to Cape Girardeau Sunday to witness the initiation of a new council.

A team from Bishop Carroll Council of Covington will confer the first degree on the Louisville class on Sunday, May 13.

Edward L. Hearu, Supreme Knight, wired every council of the order requesting aid for the distressed in San Francisco. No council was appealed to in vain.

The St. Cloud Council initiated a class of fifty-three at its last meeting. Several hundred Knights from St. Paul and Minneapolis attended the initiation and were royally entertained.

Members of the two councils in Milwaukee are still discussing the advisability of forming a corporation to erect or secure a permanent hall and club quarters. The style of building they desire would cost $50,000. The latest plan devised is to have the building corporation issue 1,000 shares of stock at $50 each. No definite conclusion has been reached.

The Rhode Island Knights held their annual State banquet in Providence on Tuesday of last week. More than 300 Knights and their guests, including many State officials, sat down to the repast. National Secretary Daniel L. Colwell announced that the National Board of Directors had contributed $10,000 to the San Francisco sufferers, and that in addition appeals for aid had been made to the individual councils. This not only brought forth applause, but was the subject for a congratulatory address from Gov. George H. Utter, chief executive of the State. The toasts responded to were numerous and full of food for thought.

ORPHANS' DAY.

Children From St. Joseph's Asylum Will Celebrate at St. Martin's.

The children of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum will have their annual celebration tomorrow afternoon. This year the celebration will be at St. Martin's church and the Knights of St. John and Uniformed Rank, C. K. of A., will act as military escorts to the orphans from St. Joseph's to St. Martin's church.

Each succeeding year the orphans are taken to one of the local German churches on a Sunday afternoon, where after attending vespers the little ones sing, recite and drill for the entertainment of their benefactors. This is followed by a bounteous supply of refreshments for the children. The people of the various congregations do all in their power to bring a little sunshine into the hearts of the parentless little ones.

SPIRITUAL

As Well As Temporal Welfare Cared For by the Vincentians.

Large Attendance at Quarterly Meeting Applauds the Reports.

Excellent Addresses Delivered by the Clergy and the Officers.

GAVE AID TO FRENCH MINERS

The regular quarterly meeting of all the conferences of the St. Vincent de Paul Society was held at St. Francis' Hall, in the basement of the Cathedral, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The attendance was unusually large, perhaps the largest ever held. The clergy present were the Rev. Father Rock, Spiritual Director; the Very Rev. Father Deppen and the Rev. Fathers O'Sullivan, Murphy and Hill. President James T. Campbell, of the Particular Council, presided. The Sacred Heart conference, with eight new members, showed the largest gain for the last quarter. St. Patrick's was next, with five; St. Charles' three, St. Bridg's and St. Philip's two each and St. Anthony's and St. Vincent de Paul one each.

Father Rock opened the meeting with prayer, after which the two new conferences, the Blessed Sacrament and St. William's, were aggregated to the general society. President Campbell addressed the large class of new Vincentians in feeling words. He told them that they were now to participate in all the blessings and benefits in store for members of the order. It was their duty to visit the poor and make them feel that they were good men and women despite their poverty. They must also look after the spiritual welfare of these poor people.

Secretary Doyle read a communication from the New York Superior Council accompanied by one from the Council General of Paris, calling on Vincentians everywhere to aid in relieving the distress of the families of the 1,000 miners who met death in a recent French colliery disaster. A collection was taken up and quite a nice sum was realized for the worthy charity. The reports of the various conferences were read and each successive report brought forth applause.

Secretary Doyle told what one branch of the organization was doing in its visits to the School of Reform. Members from each conference go there every Sunday and instruct the children in catechism. He announced that next Sunday, May 6, a class of twelve boys would receive their first holy communion. Mr. Doyle also told the good he hoped the new juvenile court would accomplish.

President Campbell expressed satisfaction at the reports read and over the results shown by the work done by the Particular Council. He then introduced the Spiritual Director, Father Rock, who had been ill and unable to talk to the Vincentians for eight weeks. Father Rock was happy in his remarks and kept all in a good humor. He told what the true Vincentian was and the broad spirit of Catholicity that should extend over all. He made pleasing references to the Rev. Fathers Murphy and O'Sullivan, pastors who had brought their flock into the Vincentian fold. He said he knew that blessings on these priests and their people would increase and fructify.

Father Rock bade the members of the order to be solicitous concerning boys and girls who had strayed away from the church. Speaking of Christ, the Good Shepherd, he compared the Vincentians to the shepherds who went about seeking stray lambs. Even men and women who had fallen away from the faith were to be looked after and brought back. Whatever you do for the poor, he said, you do for Christ.

The Very Rev. Father Deppen was called upon and said he was pleasantly surprised to see such a large attendance. It showed that the Catholic men of our city were imbued with a solid foundation of spirituality. There are many societies of Catholics, he said, but the majority of them dealt largely with earthly matters. The St. Vincent de Paul Society was highly spiritual and he hoped to see it grow more and more in spirituality and in temporal usefulness.

OFFICERS' APPEAL.

Supreme President Fogarty of the Y. M. I. issued a call to all the councils to aid in relieving the distressed people of San Francisco. Almost simultaneously Dr. Joseph A. Reardon, Grand President of the Kentucky jurisdiction, issued a similar appeal. Before either reached Louisville Trinity and Mackin Councils and the Joint Committee had contributed $25 each. Trinity and Mackin also took immediate steps to secure individual donations from their respective members.

DR. GRIFFITHS' LOSS.

Dr. George W. Griffiths has the sympathy of the entire community over the loss of his daughter, Miss Bessie, who died at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital on Tuesday. Her illness had been critical for several days and the end was not unexpected. Her father, mother, sisters and fiancée, Thomas Spencer, of Buffalo, were at her bedside when she passed away. The deceased was twenty-five years old and was to have been married in May. The funeral took place from the family residence, 833 Third avenue, on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Griffiths was a graduate of the Girls' High School and was noted for her beauty of person and character.

CLASS OF TWELVE.

Boys at School of Reform Will Receive Communion Tomorrow.

A class of twelve boys, inmates of the Louisville Industrial School of Reform, will receive their first holy communion at that institution tomorrow morning. The chaplain, the Rev. Father Michael Melody, will celebrate the mass at 9 o'clock. Superintendent Caldwell will have the altars in the little chapel appropriately decorated with flowers and lights in honor of the occasion.

In order that the boys may be physically content as well as spiritually happy the members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society have arranged to give the first communicants a nice breakfast. In fact everything possible will be done to make the occasion a memorable one for the boys.

There are at present fifty Catholic boys in the School of Reform, ranging in age from seven to sixteen years. The twelve who are to receive the Holy Eucharist for the first time tomorrow are between the ages of twelve and fifteen. Their instructors in catechism feel that these children are as well prepared for the great event as any class of children in the city. The gentlemen who have been engaged in teaching catechism and the entire membership of the St. Vincent de Paul Society are very thankful to Superintendent Caldwell for his thoughtfulness. On every occasion he has aided the teachers and has by every means in his power striven to induce the Catholic boys to live up to the teachings of their religion.

HOMeward BOUND.

Young Irish Invalid Starts On His Way to Dear Old Erin.

Maurice Wolfe, who is well known in local Irish circles, left Thursday for New York and sailed for Ireland yesterday. He expects to remain in his native county, Limerick, until his health is fully restored.

Mr. Wolfe came to America less than a year ago and at once settled in Louisville. He was in robust health when he reached here, but after several months he had to relinquish work. His health failed so rapidly that his physician advised his return to Ireland as the only remedy. The young man was without funds, though he was not without friends. John E. Browne, the popular grocer at Twelfth and Zane streets, full of sympathy for the invalid, arranged a drawing for him. He also enlisted other friends in the cause and went all over the city disposing of the tickets. By this means several hundred dollars were raised, so that Mr. Wolfe will have enough to live on until his health is restored after paying his passage money home. The sick man left Louisville showering blessings on his benefactors.

SILVER JUBILEES.

Four Priests of This Diocese to Celebrate in June Next.

The Rev. Thomas W. White, pastor of the Church St. Frances of Rome in Clifton, will celebrate his silver sacerdotal jubilee on June 26 instead of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his church, as was inadvertently stated last week.

Of the class of six priests ordained on June 26, 1881, four are ministering to the spiritual wants of the people in this diocese. They are Father Thomas J. Hayes, of Bowling Green; Father Richard Davis, of Nazareth; Father Lawrence Ford, of St. Patrick's, and Father Thomas White, both of this city. Father Joseph Connolly is now in the diocese of Newark, N. J. The sixth member of the class, Father William McCarthy, died about twelve years ago.

Each of the five living priests will have his own celebration of the anniversary.

MONTH'S MIND.

The office and month's mind for the repose of the soul of the late Father J. J. McLoughlin will be held at St. William's church at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Father McLoughlin died at St. Anthony's Hospital in this city a month ago, and was buried at his home in Pennsylvania. He was a great friend of the Rev. Father Denis Murphy, whose assistant he was at St. William's for a brief period. All the local clergy have been invited to take part in the requiem ceremonies and many have signified their intention to be present.

HEALTH IMPROVES.

Secretary Bonaparte, of the United States navy, was attacked by acute indigestion early in the week and was quite ill for a few days. Fortunately he is now on the road to complete recovery.

VANQUISHED.

Felt Like Victors After New Haven's Many Hospitable Acts.

Trinity's Bowlers Shown Royal Time in Nelson County Last Saturday.

Visit to Gethsemane Abbey Was Crowning Feature of the Day.

ANXIOUS FOR A RETURN GAME

Trinity Council's bowling team went to New Haven Saturday afternoon, was defeated there by a picked team of St. Catherine's Council, but returned home Sunday evening chanting a litany of praises in honor of the victors and their hospitable fellow-townsmen. All bowling rivalry was forgotten in detailing the many acts of courtesy performed by their Nelson county hosts. There is not a man among the Louisville visitors who does not want to go back to New Haven at some future time, neither is there a man who will not welcome any resident of New Haven to Louisville whenever the occasion offers.

Trinity's bowlers were Capt. Albert F. Martin, Edward Wulf, Paul Coleman, John X. Kinberger and John J. Barry. The bowlers from St. Catherine's Council were Judge Robert Greenwell, Prof. Edward Coomes, William Bowling, Ed. Nally and Jasper Johnson. The New Haven team defeated the visitors 175 pins in three games. This makes the second victory for the New Haven team on its own alleys. Several weeks ago when the Nelson county visitors came to Louisville, they were defeated by Trinity's team at Haeger's alleys. The Louisville people are not yet done and have invited New Haven's team to play a return game in this city.

Following the game the visitors were escorted to St. Catherine Council's hall where an elegant banquet was served. After the tired bowlers and their friends had done justice to the ample menu, Prof. Edward Coomes, as toastmaster delivered a welcome address. Capt. Albert F. Martin, who, besides being at the head of the bowling team, is also President of Trinity Council and likewise First Vice President of the Kentucky jurisdiction, responded on behalf of the visitors. Capt. Martin was particularly happy in his remarks and paid a high tribute to the Kentucky Irish American for its endeavors in behalf of the Y. M. I. in the Kentucky jurisdiction. Among others who delivered addresses were Edwin Dawson, of New Haven; Joseph L. Lenihan, President of Satolli Council; Chief of Police Coyle, of New Haven; John X. Kinberger, Paul Coleman, Pierre Dawson, Edward and Robert Wulf and Adam Schneider, all of Louisville; Joe Barry, of New Haven, and the two John J. Barrys, one of the New Haven Echo, the other of the Kentucky Irish American. Several of the speakers endorsed Albert F. Martin for next Grand President of the Y. M. I. and others endorsed Edwin Dawson for re-election as Grand Secretary. Nearly all of the speakers took a dig at the two John J. Barrys, advising them to select a New Haven girl for a wife and drop bachelorhood.

It was late in the night when the feast was ended, but visitors and hosts were bright and chipper on Sunday morning. The whole party attended mass at St. Catherine's church, where the choir reproduced the special musical programme rendered on Easter Sunday. The visitors were loud in praise of the choir's good work.

After an early dinner at the Dawson House, where the visitors were installed, the hosts escorted them to waiting surreys and wagonettes and the whole party were driven to the historic Abbey of Gethsemane. The scenery along the route, though wild and rugged, is most picturesque, especially at this season of the year. No guests are ordinarily allowed to enter Gethsemane on Sundays, but by special permission the Very Rev. Prior, Father Frederick Dunn, escorted the entire party through the main parts of the abbey. As he went from place to place he explained the different points of interest and the rigors of monastic life as lived by the monks of La Trappe.

Those in the party were Edwin Dawson, Judge Robert Greenwell, Prof. Edwin Coomes, Will Plunkett, Jasper Johnson, Hugh Rapier and Joe and John Barry, all of New Haven, and Capt. Albert F. Martin, Dr. Ben J. Lammers, William Goda, Edward and Robert Wulf, Thomas Ford, Joseph L. Lenihan, Paul Coleman, Pierre Dawson, Bernard Morthorst, John X. Kinberger and John J. Barry, of Louisville.

So highly were the Louisville tourists pleased with their trip to the abbey that at least one member of the party has expressed his intention of returning, probably for good. After a two hour trip through the monastery the visitors were driven to the L. & N. railroad station, where they boarded a train for Louisville, tired but full of New Haven hospitality.

When the New Haven bowlers got to Louisville Trinity's members professed to make it interesting for them in ways than one.

AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.

The Louisville Elks and other good citizens are making a great fight to exterminate tuberculosis from our city. For this purpose they have formed an Anti-Tuberculosis Association and a plan of campaign against the dread disease has been formulated. Statistics from the local health office show that this white plague carried off more people in Louisville last year than were stricken by yellow fever in New Orleans. This is a sad state of affairs and the Anti-Tuberculosis Association deserves the support of all people who have the health of our people at heart.

TALKED RIGHT OUT.

Marayan Krishna, a Hindoo Brahmin, was invited to fill the pulpit in a Kansas City Episcopal church last Sunday and surprised the natives. After telling the over-zealous Americans to keep their missionaries at home, he said: "Show me a country where missionaries have been that is prosperous. It does not exist. There were no famines, no plagues in India before the English invasion. I am here in the interests of India for India, not India for England." That sounds like his name might be Chris Moran instead of Marayan Krishna.

SYMPATHY FROM IRELAND.

If the people of Ireland are too poor to offer material assistance to the people of San Francisco, they are at least not wanting in gratitude. The sentiments of the whole Irish nation are voiced by the editor of the Dundalk Democrat when he says: "From its Irish Archbishop and former Mayor Phelan down, it was to all intents an Irish city. Beneath its smoking ruins there lies the mortal clay of many a bright-faced boy and girl, the darling of Irish parent hearts. And of those Irish in the West, who will be heard of no more when the sad tale of ruin is all told, their friends may have this solace: that they died no coward's death in that frightful scene of havoc and desolation. There will be many of the breed and type of Fire Chief Sullivan, who will die the death of heroes, helping the helpless. And for such, one may reverently hope, there is prepared the martyr's crown."

THE CATHOLIC PRESS.

James I. Conway, editor of our esteemed contemporary, the Providence Visitor, in responding to a toast at the State banquet of Rhode Island Knights of Columbus last week, said in part: "The press is the index of our civilization. For even from the purely mechanical point of view it is, indeed, an art and no human endeavor has produced greater perfection of machinery. The intellectual branch of newspaper work is also marvelous, and the best thing that can be said of it is that newspaper men in spite of the fact that they are as a rule poorly paid are unwilling to leave a vocation which they learn to love for its own sake. The press is also the index of our liberty for it keeps ever before our minds the consoling assurance that we live under a representative government. The best efforts of the newspaper are seen in the religious press, which is always laboring for the betterment of the nations, and is destined to win on in spite of opposition from without and the indifference of warm Catholics within the fold, it is to be the instrument in its hands for saving the nations from the lawless forces which are threatening society." What Editor Conway said is true and to the point.

PHELAN'S ABILITY.

The editor of the Milwaukee Citizen pays this deserved tribute to James D. Phelan, ex-Mayor of San Francisco, and hero of the hour:

"As an individual contributor to the San Francisco relief fund one notices an Irish name leading all the rest—far and above in amount the generosity of the Rockefellers, the Astors and the Vanderbilts. The name is that of James D. Phelan, who subscribed $1,000,000. And this notwithstanding that he himself lost $15,000,000 by the fire. These great catastrophes always evoke large-hearted acts, and assure us that neither magnanimity, public spirit nor courage have yet vanished from the face of the earth. Mr. Phelan's conduct proclaims him a man worthy of his wealth. We learn further that he is a Catholic, a graduate of a Jesuit college and that he was Mayor of San Francisco from 1896 to 1902. As he is only forty-five years of age, we shall hope to hear more of him hereafter."

The Kentucky Irish American desires to add that President Roosevelt recognized Mr. Phelan's ability and has recommended that he be made the chief agent through which relief is to be disbursed.

The editor of the Catholic Union and Times, of Buffalo, says: "The Catholic who can not afford to take the paper always sends in the most gushing marriage notice and hopes for the most elaborate obituary." The Kentucky Irish American has found this often the case, but not always.

Good of the Order, a new local journal to be published every month in the interest of the Knights of Columbus, made its first appearance this week. It is ably edited by John J. Flynn and its columns are filled with bright things from several of the local knights.

While it will be years before San Francisco will be rebuilt in all its splendor, the people have gotten over their panic and normal conditions are said to be returning. However, many are in need of food, clothing and money.

The Associated Press informed us on Tuesday that the victors in the hop, step and jump were three Englishmen, and it gives their names O'Connor, Leahy and Cronin. Very Irish English were they, to be sure.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Trinity Council met Monday night but transacted only routine business. Next Monday night the members and the candidates elected will meet with Mackin Council, when a grand initiation will be held with Mackin's degree team officiating. President Martin desires a full attendance of the council at this meeting.

FONTAINE FERRY.

Fontaine Ferry Park will give its patrons two exceptional attractions during the coming week. One will be the new vaudeville bill in the Hopkins' Pavilion and the other will be a series of free concerts by the First Regiment Band of Mexico, under the leadership of Capt. Payen, a noted musician and cornet soloist.

FORTY HOURS.

The Forty Hours' devotion began at Holy Rosary Academy on Sunday and closed Tuesday morning. Monday was the feast of St. Catherine of Siena, a Dominican nun, and the services at Holy Rosary were more than usually elaborate. Only the nuns, their pupils and a few intimate friends attended the devotions.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. James Winn, of Portland, is visiting relatives in Owensboro.

Mrs. Nannie McKenna, of Portland, is visiting her son at Knoxville.

John F. Dolan, of Portland, is spending several weeks at Eureka Springs, Ark.

Miss Nora Keating, of South Louisville, is the guest of friends in Shelby county.

James Meillet and his estimable wife have been enjoying themselves at West Baden Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward White have removed from 3840 Grand Boulevard to 705 Florence place.

A pretty baby girl arrived at 1422 Payne street this week and Papa Jerry Sheehan is all smiles.

William Colgan has gone to New Orleans on business. He will be away from the city several months.

James and John Butler, of Covington, are guests of Michael J. Walsh, of 728 Oldham street, during the races.

James Martin and bride have returned from their wedding tour and have begun housekeeping in the Highlands.

Mrs. Disney Ryan and children have returned to Lebanon Junction after a pleasant visit to relatives in this city.

On Tuesday evening Miss Nora McDonough entertained the Young Ladies' Euchre Club at her home, 505 Twenty-sixth street.

Mrs. Paul Higgins entertained her card club at the home of her mother, Mrs. Minnie V. Bosche, in Portland, on Monday afternoon.

Miss Anita Muldoon and her guest, Miss Lou Hopkins, of St. Louis, left Wednesday to attend the May music festival at Cincinnati.

Miss Mattie Mackey, of South Louisville, accompanied Miss Annie Donahue to her home in Cincinnati and will remain there several weeks.

Miss Catherine Drus and Miss Jewel O'Brien have returned from Corydon, Ind., where they spent a week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin.

Dr. Patrick Langan, of Kankakee, Ill., has purchased a residence on Twenty-sixth street, near Portland avenue, and will remove his family to this city.

Attorney William O'Connor, who spent three weeks at Pass Christian, Miss., convalescing from typhoid fever, has returned home in the best of health.

William A. Hennessy and bride, formerly Miss Ellen Joyce, have returned from their honeymoon tour and are at home to their friends at 711 Oldham street.

George Winges, the popular grocer at 2400 Rowan street, has returned from Martinsville, Ind., where he went to be treated for rheumatism. His health is much improved.

Miss Clara Bir, a favorite in New Albany Catholic society circles and a leading member of Holy Trinity church, will be the guest of friends at Peru, Ind., during the next three weeks.

Miss Anna Weber and Arthur Day, prominent young people of New Albany, were united in matrimony at St. Mary's church in that city Tuesday morning, the Rev. Father Borries officiating.

Miss Mary Klarer and William J. Rammer were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Charles Borromeo church on Monday afternoon, the Rev. Father Raffo officiating. Both bride and groom are popular in West End society circles.

The ceremony that made Miss Katherine Martell Mrs. Henry Weismann was solemnized at St. Mary's church in New Albany at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Both bride and groom are popular in New Albany Catholic circles, and their many friends crowded the church to witness the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Broderick, who were united in matrimony at St. Patrick's church last week, have begun housekeeping in a cozy furnished home at 1907 Lytle street. The bride was Miss Della T. Purtil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Purtil, of County Kerry, Ireland. Mr. Broderick holds a responsible position with the Pennsylvania railroad. He is a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and a charter member of the Criterion Club.

Quite a jolly party from Bowling Green came here to witness the Derby. While in Louisville they were the guests of Curran Bros., 418 West Green street. In the party were Mayor George Wilson, Sheriff Charles Jenkins, City Attorney C. P. Thomas, City Clerk Rush McGee, George Massie, of the Board of Public Works, Dr. Farnsworth, Daniel O'Regan, James Whittingill and Joseph Shugrorty. The last named gentleman is en route to Europe for a stay of several months.

Miss Florence J. Lynch gave her friends quite a surprise Thursday night by becoming the wife of Marcus W. Phillips, of Springfield, Ill. Members of the family were invited to her father's residence, 2443 West Chestnut street, ostensibly to play euchre. When the guests had all arrived the Rev. E. L. Powell also put in an appearance and in less time than it takes to tell it Miss Lynch became Mrs. Phillips. The bride is a daughter of Raymond Lynch, the veteran proffesor. Her husband has been for several years manager of a hotel at Springfield, Ill. The happy couple will make their home in Louisville.

STILL PUSHING.

Mackin Council's Members Have Very Many Plans Afoot.

President Raidy occupied the chair at the meeting of Mackin Council, Y. M. I., on Tuesday night. Four applications were received and the new members were elected. The San Francisco Relief Committee reported that it had collected more than $100 and had sent a check for $100 immediately to Supreme Director Mahon, at Eureka, Cal. A communication was read from the Geraldine Dramatic Club inviting the members of Mackin to attend that body's performance on Monday, May 14. Several members made brief remarks urging the council to attend the presentation of the drama.

Louis Kieffer, on behalf of the Fountain Ferry Park outing committee, reported that 10,000 tickets had been ordered and that the necessary advertising matter was ready for distribution. It was also announced that each member disposing of fifty tickets would receive a Y. M. I. button.

Thomas Bachman, on behalf of the committee that had charge of the last euchre, reported that a nice sum had been accumulated and handed over to the council treasury. It was announced that Mackin's degree team would initiate a class for Trinity Council on Monday night, but this will not interfere with the meeting on Tuesday.

DISTINGUISHED CONVERT.

Prof. Edward Smith, of Columbia University, Portland, Ore., was received into the Catholic church in that city very recently. He is a Greek and Hebrew scholar and was formerly a Methodist minister in the Eastern States. The Rev. Father Jerome Phelan, C. S. C., received him into the church and gave him conditional baptism.

FIRST COMMUNION CLASS.

The Rev. Father Denis Murphy, pastor of St. William's church, is preparing a large class of boys and girls to receive their first holy communion on Sunday, May 20. Solemn high mass will be celebrated on that occasion at 7 o'clock. The sacrament of confirmation will be administered at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

KOLB'S CAFE.

At Kolb's cafe, at 345 West Green street, has been repainted and renovated within and without, and in its bright new dress presents a more attractive appearance than ever. It is a resort for the highest class of trade, both local and transient.

REORGANIZED.

The members of Debraine Council, Y. M. I., of Lebanon, have reorganized their dramatic society and will give a public performance within the next two weeks. "Joe the Wolf" is the title of the drama, and its action is said to be brimful of interest.

BLESSING OF STATUE.

The beautiful new statue of St. Patrick, presented to St. William's church, will be blessed at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of Sunday, May 27. The Rev. Father P. M. J. Rook will preach the panegyric of Erin's patron saint.

NOT THE MAN.

Edward H. Kassenbrock, of 2545 West Walnut street, is not the man who was implicated in a row at South Louisville, as was erroneously stated in certain of the daily papers.

ODOR OF RELIGION.

The rose upon opening its leaves begins to throw out fragrance, and so long as it is alive it continues to exhale, send out, the most grateful odor. Place a single rose in your room and in a short time that tiny flower will have filled the entire apartment with its invisible presence. And so with vital religion. When the soul expanded, blossoms forth under the the quickening breath of the "Sun of Righteousness," it pours out a fragrance upon all who in its path have a blest fellowship, making pleasant and delightful the place of its habitation.

OUR BURDENS.

If we feel that we must relieve our sorrow or distress burdened hearts by confiding in another, let us carefully choose our subject, time and circumstance. To thus parade our mental burdens in the sight of our fellow men that all may see and pity will but add to their grievousness by making manifest the poverty of human sympathy and rendering ourselves repugnant to all with whom we come in contact. There is but one being who will never weary of our loving plaints. It is always safe—never amiss—to appeal for sympathy and solace to the infinitely loving God of our hearts.

LESSON IN FIGURES.

An Irishman was walking along a road beside a golf link when he was suddenly struck between the shoulders by a golf ball. The force of the blow almost knocked him down. When he recovered he observed a golfer running toward him.

"Are you hurt?" asked the player. "Why didn't you get out of the way?" "And why should I get out of the way?" asked Pat. "I didn't know there were any assassins around here." "But I called 'fore,' that is a sign for you to get out of the way." "Oh, it is, is it?" said Pat. "Well, then, when I say 'fore,' it is a sign that you are going to get hit on the nose. 'Fore'."

After cleaning white kid gloves with gasoline lay them on the register for an hour or so. You will find that the dry heat has "baked" out all the odor of the gasoline.

IRISH-AMERICAN NIGHT MAY 8.

GRAND SUCCESS.

Irish-American Night at Military Carnival Will Break Record.

The Military Carnival and World's Fair Pike, now in progress at the armory, has proven an unqualified success. The attendance has been large both during the afternoon and evening and the attractions satisfactory. Tonight will be Governor's night and the record breaking crowd of the week is promised.

Great interest centers in the outcome of next Tuesday night, or as it is popularly called, Irish-American night. Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Y. M. I. and similar organizations have signified their intention of being present. The displays by the local merchants and manufacturers are interesting and the various pipe attractions are of the thrilling variety.

THEY LOST.

The Robinson-Norton bowling team went to Corydon Saturday night under the leadership of Capt. Dennis J. Gleeson. The Louisville team was no match for the Hoosier bowlers. Capt. Gleeson attributes his ill-luck to the fact that he took no rooters along. He has challenged teams at Vevay and Utica and expects to play in both towns in the near future.

MERELY ROUTINE.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., held its regular meeting Wednesday night and, considering the weather, the attendance was good. Miss Mary Sheridan was unavoidably absent and Miss Elizabeth King presided in her stead, while Miss Ella O'Connell acted Secretary in the absence of Mrs. Rose Kelly. Miss Rose Nalty was balloted for and elected. Outside of this only routine business was transacted.

BISHOP APPEALS.

His Lordship the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey has issued a pastoral to the clergy and laity of the diocese of Louisville asking for aid for the San Francisco sufferers. He orders a collection to be taken up for their benefit at all the masses in all the churches tomorrow morning. The Bishop also forbids all other morning collections.

BISHOP IS BUSY.

The Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class at St. Thomas' Orphan Asylum in Bardonia on Wednesday. Tomorrow morning he will administer confirmation to a class at St. Joseph's church, Washington street, near Webster, at 6:30 o'clock. At 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon he will confirm another large class at St. Patrick's church.

CATHOLIC STUDENTS.

Two Catholics have distinguished themselves at English universities this year. Jerome Farrell has won a classical fellowship at Cambridge, worth $1,000 for six years with board and residence. At Oxford Valentine O'Connell Milley has gained a mathematical scholarship worth $400 a year. Mr. Farrell is the first Catholic fellow of Cambridge since the reformation.

THOMAS CAREY DEAD.

Thomas Carey died at his home, 1117 Lytle street, on Tuesday, after an illness of typhoid fever. He was forty-six year old and is survived by three children. For several years he had been in the employ of the Illinois Central railroad and was respected by his neighbors and fellow workmen. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church on Thursday morning.

Venerable Bishop of Rochester

Splendid Address Delivered Before
Cathedral School
Alumni.

THEIR DUTY TO GOD AND MEN

The Right Rev. Bishop McQuaid, always an interesting talker, delivered a stirring and patriotic address in Rochester last week before the alumni of the Cathedral school. When he arose the venerable prelate was greeted with the applause of 400 former pupils. En masse they rose to their feet and cheered him till they were well nigh exhausted. After the applause had subsided Bishop McQuaid said in part:

"At my age I take this greeting as the vocal testimony of your hearts. I wish I were all you ascribe to me. Of all the institutions in the Rochester diocese none comes nearer to my heart than the Cathedral school and its graduates. Tonight I have been likened to a great General leading his forces to victory. I have never known a General who was able to do much without brave and devoted soldiers following his leadership. If I have had success in my work I owe it to the soldiers who have formed my army, to the priests who have stood by me, to the people who have upheld my hands and to the rank and file of the various parochial schools of the diocese. It will depend on you to come up to the full requirements, and then the war will go on in the bloodless struggle of strong men and women for the cause that is ours and at the same time is the cause of the citizens of the United States.

"Many do not understand the aim we have in view. We are often commended for the work we are doing. Many give us praises for our wonderful school work, but they know not what is beyond that school work, the end in view, which is that life immortal yet to come. The second of our objects is still less known. We are for God and for Christ's holy religion, for morality and the teaching of Christian civilization, but we have something more in view. We are children of God, but we are also members of this organization, the civil organization of citizens of this great republic. There are many republics in this world, but none which gives liberty to all and protection to all classes except the republic of the United States of America. The point to which we look is the preservation of this republic. It can have no security in the future, no guarantee of stability, except in moral life based upon God's creed and expressed will. There must be law, order and justice, right and freedom for me and right and freedom for every citizen in the land. This can never be brought about except through the instrumentality of men and women who believe in God and Christ.

"It is only through conscience that successful work can be obtained. When our leaders are guilty of crimes, when the family is shattered by divorce the republic begins to stagger, for the foundation of the republic is in the family life. When that is destroyed the structure will fall. Our cause has, in the past, brought obloquy and misrepresentation upon us and the holding back of the encouragement we were entitled to. For many years our schools holding God within them were criticised unfavorably. But we are encouraged now to go on and spread our sound morality and gain the victory for the government of free men and women. Our object is to do our duty first to God and then to our fellow-citizens."

CROWDS INCREASE.

Many Take Advantage of the Pleasure Trip to Silver Hills.

Lovers of nature are taking advantage of the pleasant weather to visit Silver Hills, just west of New Albany. The Louisville & Southern Indiana Traction Company, whose cars carry patrons to these charming hills from Louisville, Jeffersonville and New Albany, is doing everything possible to accommodate the public. The traffic manager's reports show that the majority of those who visit Silver Hills make the trip on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday on week days, and on Sundays the number of cars have to be increased for the comfort of the passengers.

Silver Hills is an ideal place for private outings, Sunday school picnics, etc. There is ample shade, plenty of healthful water and sylvan scenes galore. No charge is made for those who occupy the grounds for picnics and outings. Cars that will carry you direct to the hills leave the corner of Third and Market streets every fifteen minutes. The ride to the terminus of the line and back is a pleasant one for those who care to commute with nature.

SERMONS.

Thunderbolts Launched Against Certain Tendencies in America.

Archbishops Ryan and Glennon Give Timely Warning to the People.

Magnificent Efforts of Orators of the American Hierarchy.

SUICIDE, DIVORCE, COMMUNISM

The centenary celebration of the Baltimore Cathedral last Sunday was not only remarkable for its grand pageant, but it was also made memorable by the utterances of Archbishops Ryan and Glennon, both of whom launched thunderbolts against some tendencies in American life of the present day. Both showed that the Catholic church is unalterably opposed to socialism and the undue aggregation of wealth. Among the salient points made by Archbishop Ryan were these:

"There are three great and increasing evils in our day, one affecting the individual, the second the family and the third the State. I mean suicide, divorce and communism leading to anarchy. Now the doctrines of the Catholic church teach the folly and sinfulness of these and declare that those guilty of them shall be punished for all eternity. I can not believe the love of money is the predominant fault of the American people. They are too noble and generous a people to be a nation of misers. No, I believe that ambition, pride, inordinate respect for the distinct doctrinal teachings of Jesus Christ. Of course, we can not expect to find in our public men such ascetic humility as the new Pontiff exhibits, but a deep sense of responsibility to God and to the people, a humble estimate of our own powers and reliance on God's power to help us, are to be sought."

Equally strong was the sermon preached by Archbishop Glennon at the vesper service. Here are a few of the truths he told:

"The social fabric appears today to be in imminent danger, because old principles are ignored and old foundations attacked. What was held as law is now regarded as injustice; what was held as government is now deemed tyranny. It were folly to deny that the shadow of socialism is hanging over the land, and while learned men are busy pointing out its unreasonableness, its lack of feasibility, the shadow deepens. And yet we fear not. We are convinced that the Church has a message for these coming years."

"Standing by that cross, the Church would teach an equality that mere forms of poverty and wealth could not affect. From the darkness and the gloom, as on Good Friday, will come forth again the victorious Christ, the great leader, to bless humanity and recreate the world." It is estimated that fully 20,000 people were in and around the Cathedral during the morning services and almost as many sought entrance during the evening.

At the banquet in the afternoon Cardinal Gibbons acted as toastmaster, and Bishop Maes delivered one of the principal addresses. All the dignitaries prized his remarks.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The Pittsburg divisions will hold their second annual reunion and picnic on June 28.

A new division of the Ladies' Auxiliary has been organized in St. Basil's parish, Chicago.

A business meeting of Division 3 will be held Monday night and a full attendance is desired.

P. C. Clarke, formerly of this city, now of Greenwood, Miss., writes to say: "Tell the boys of division 1 I am yet with them in heart."

Divisions 3 and 4 of Syracuse have arranged a "Pedro" contest. The first games were played on Thursday night.

Division 3 of Minneapolis has arranged a delightful entertainment in honor of its new members. It will take place tomorrow.

On Wednesday night Division 4 will hold a business meeting and the members will hear a report from the Entertainment Committee.

Division 75 of Boston opens and closes each meeting with prayer in the Gaelic language. During the session a chapter of Irish history is also read.

In less than a month members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Allegheny county, Penn., have subscribed $1,000 for the new Pittsburg Cathedral.

National President James E. Dolan will talk on the "Story of Hibernianism" at the approaching celebration of the seventieth anniversary of the order in Philadelphia.

Division 1 will hold a business meeting on Tuesday night. The Literary Committee will announce its programme for "Ladies' Night," which will be held later in the month.

At Erie both divisions attended communion in a body on Sunday morning. The next day they opened their new headquarters with a reception and ball. The Ladies' Auxiliary were active in assisting the members of the order.

Division 1 of Wilmington, Del., has adopted resolutions asking the United States Navy Department to name the new battleship "The Delaware." The members have also appealed to their representative in Congress to urge that the vessel be so named.

Division 3 of Minneapolis and Division 4 of St. Paul engaged in a membership contest, which was brought to a close last week. Minneapolis landed 101 new members, as against eighty-six for St. Paul. As a result the latter division will have to pay for an oyster supper.

Division 15 of Meriden, Conn., is one of the most progressive in the State. It was organized eight years ago, with a charter membership of 282 and now has 515 on its rolls. It has a balance of $3,000 in the treasury despite the fact that it has paid out on an average $1,000 a year in sick benefits.

SPRING MEETING

Of the Louisville Jockey Club
Opens Under Favorable Auspices.

The thirty-second annual spring meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club opened at Churchill Downs on Wednesday afternoon, and in the presence of crowd of at least 30,000 people Sir Huon, a horse owned by George J. Long, a Louisville man, galloped home with the Derby prize. It was a great race, well run but easily won.

The racing this week has been of superior excellence and the meeting opened under the most favorable auspices. The principal event carded for today is the Clark handicap. Next week the principal events will be the Debutante stakes on Tuesday, the Bluegrass stakes Thursday, and the Nursery stakes on Saturday. On Monday and Wednesday the steeplechases will add interest to the programme.

GETTING CLOSE.

Geraldine Dramatic Club's Performance Is Not Very Far Off.

One week from Monday night the Geraldine Dramatic Club will make its initial appearance in public. This amateur dramatic organization is composed of several young Irish-American ladies and gentlemen of exceptional ability and the performance promises to be a treat to their many friends. The principal effort will be the production of "Shuan Aroon," a romantic Irish drama. All the parts are acceptably filled and the performers continue to rehearse twice a week.

Thomas D. Cline and Michael McGuire will appear in a curtain-raiser entitled "Forget-me-nots." From start to finish the entertainment promises to be very enjoyable, since all the characters are in competent hands.

Judge Brady was presented with white gloves at Dungannon quarter sessions, as there was no criminal business.

Patrick Whelan, a carpenter, fell off a scaffold at the Munster-Connaught Exhibition in Limerick and was killed.

The Rev. Father O'Flynn, a practical Gaelic Leaguer and a popular soggarth, was the recipient of a suitable presentation from his flock on his departure to Annascaul from Duagh, County Kerry.

Cardinal Logue performed the ceremony of opening of the new Carnegie Library at Dugheela. His Eminence delivered an important address, in which he dealt at length with the education bill.

The United Irishman has suspended publication. A weekly paper on the same lines and to take its place, entitled Sinn Fein, made its appearance last week under the editorship of Arthur Griffiths, who was the founder and editor of the former.

Rev. Daniel Foley, of Tarbert, County Kerry, and Rev. Father McNernau, of Manorbhamilton, two of the oldest priests in Ireland, died the first week of this month. Both were ordained prior to the famine and were idolized by their parishioners, besides possessing the friendship of members of other denominations.

Emigration is on the down grade at present, especially in Munster and Connaught. Last year there were nearly 10,000 fewer emigrants than in the preceding year. So far this year there is a decrease of nearly 2,000 on last year's figures. One cause appears to be the falling off in the number of passages paid on the other side of the Atlantic.

The Irish art-loving public will regret to learn of the death of R. T. Moynan, after a prolonged period of ill-health. After abandoning a medical career for that of art he studied in Dublin and afterward on the continent. Early in his studies at the Antwerp Royal Academy he had the unique distinction of being the first Irishman to get the award of first place against nearly a hundred competitors of all nationalities.

A tenant named James Carroll, his wife and four children, were evicted for non-payment of rent from his small holding at Falduff, near Westport, at the suit of Justice O'Dowd. Prior to the eviction the holding was sold to Martin Geraty, who summoned Carroll before the Limerick magistrates for taking repossession. Owing to an informality in the summons the charge was dismissed without prejudice.

The undoubted mineral wealth of Derry has at last been tapped. After the usual prospecting operations a deep shaft has been sunk at Ballymorgin, about four miles from Limavady, in a picturesque situation, on the rugged face of Benevogue mountain, overlooking the fertile valley of the Roe, with the silver streak of Lough Foyle and the Donegal mountains in the distance. An extensive bed of hematite ore has been discovered not far from the surface, of a very rich quality, equal to any oxide found in the United Kingdom. A pumping plant is being placed in position to enable operations on a large scale.

A report of the Department of Agriculture shows that in the year 1905 migratory laborers to the approximate number of 25,000 went to Scotland and 20,000 to England. The exodus is stated to be the greatest in the month of June, but the number has been steadily decreasing in recent years, there being a falling off last year of 2,000 as compared with 1904. Roughly estimated three-fourths of them were natives of Connaught, and of that number two-thirds came from Mayo. The largest numbers migrate from Swinford, Westport, Castlebar, Claremorris, Ballina and Belmullet, a considerable number from Roscommon and some from Galway and Sligo.
